

LG Viatera

PRODUCT FACT SHEET

PRODUCT OVERVIEW

LG Viatera, meaning "by way of earth" is an extremely durable quartz surfacing introduced to the LG family of surfaces in 2005. Imported from Italy, it is composed of 93 percent natural quartz blended with advanced polymer resins and pigments which remain colorfast under intense heat and pressure.

APPLICATIONS

The ideal surface for any luxury kitchen or bath, as an alternative to granite or marble. LG Viatera appeals to those who prefer the elegant look of stone, but desire a product that is easier to maintain. It is also a more cost-effective surfacing solution for commercial developers seeking a low-maintenance alternative to other elegant-looking types of stone in hospitality, restaurant, retail, office, education, healthcare settings.

FEATURES & BENEFITS

Unlike other stone surfaces, such as granite and marble, LG Viatera does not need to be sealed, allowing lasting beauty with very little maintenance. It is also non-porous, anti-microbial, renewable, scratch, stain and heat-resistant and backed by a 15-year, transferrable warranty.

COLORS

Available in 22 earth-inspired colors that range from subtle neutrals to intense greens and blues.

WARRANTY

Backed by the industry's only 15-year transferable warranty, a testament to the quality and lasting durability of the product.

WHERE TO FIND

Available at any Lowe's retailer across the country and through thousands of kitchen and bath dealers and designers nationwide (served by a nationwide network of certified fabricators and distributors).
